

eLearning Strategies Symposium

Posted on 11/25/2014

The eLearning Strategies Symposium (ESS) is accepting registrations for both individuals and district teams for its third annual event to be held on December 11-13 at the San Mateo Marriott. ESS is a joint partnership of Computer-Using Educators CUE and the Stanislaus County Office of Education. Each year, the symposium brings together K-12 teachers and administrators, policymakers, and industry leaders to discuss and debate eLearning's progress, direction, curriculum, policy, teaching and learning strategies, and professional development.

Registration includes Friday and Saturday sessions and a keynote/lunch on Friday and the closing keynote on Saturday. Groups of two or more who are from the same school, district, or organization may register for a reduced rate.

To preview the lineup of sessions and workshops, visit elearns.org/program. For more information on the event, visit the eLearning Strategies Symposium website, <http://www.elearns.org>.
